

Badia a Coltibuono Red Wine Vinegar

Truly great vinegar, requires great wine as the foundation. One of the most prestigious wine producers in Italy is Badia A Coltibuono. Situated high on a Tuscan hill, in the heart of the Chianti Classico wine district, the estate's red wine vinegar reflects their excellence in the art of fermentation. Made from specially selected wines from their estate, this wine vinegar is filtered through wood shavings, impregnated with vinegar culture. The vinegar's complexity is further enhanced by maturing in wooden casks. The end result is refined, and traditional wine vinegar of the highest quality. Annual production in bottles is 8,500, with an acidity level of 7%.
